The Gospel for Children: Mark 1:14-20: There is no 'I' in Team.

In today's Gospel we read about Jesus and the beginning of his ministry. This means the beginning of his preaching here on earth. This amounted to three years in total and the arrest of John signals that it is time to begin the huge task of leaving his family and going on the road telling people about the love of God. Jesus decided that he wanted to be in community at all times. This means that even though Jesus could complete all of his work alone and would eventually have to go to his own death alone, he wanted to have his group of friends with him as he preached the Good News. So he began choosing his 12 apostles straight away. He approached some good men who were fishing and knew that they were the first on his team. This is why we must try to live with and for others. We often hear the saying, there is no 'I' in team, well Jesus was the first person who showed us that! He loved being with his team and worked hard for and with them. Jesus showed us how to care for others and how to show love on an everyday basis. This week think about how can you show love at home on an everyday basis?
